Foster answered questions from students and Strathmore patrons about her performing career and how the Act Two @ Levine Pre-Professional actors can further their theatrical experiences. "I think as an artist, for me, its about being inspired about a certain project or character or people involved," said Broadway veteran Sutton Foster on her move between stage and screen. "You have to live in spontaneity and I want to keep moving forward."

The list of young singers from from Act Two @ Levine that performed for Sutton Foster were Carley Rosefelt, Eitan Mazia, Audrey Rinehart, and Jhonny Maldonado. They were joined by Yaya Balbed from Strathmore.

Foster gave the students of the Pre-Professional Program great advice for their journeys to move forward, focusing on the students song and character choices.
